

German-Brazilian Workshop on Management and Engineering of IT-Supported Business Networks, Administration Networks and Social Networks

Today, we observe the emergence and proliferation of networks in almost all aspects of professional and private life as parts of a shift towards a Networked Society.

DeuBraNet 2011 provides a platform for inter-disciplinary discussions and presentations of Brazilian and German researchers that study networks in business and public administration as well as social networks to increase the understanding of the Networked Society and to identify prospects for future research.
